Harvey Booth of Badger Lake died at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning after a n immediate illness of but a couple of days death being due to a cancerous obstruction of the small intestine. Mr. Booth was plowing on the farm of B. King and left home on Sunday afternoon, stopping with Henry Miller for supper, going on about eight or nine o'clock in the evening. Apparently he was stricken soon after. Monday morning "Cap" Calkins was walking by on the way from Miller's to his own place and discovered the afflicted man who was then in a state next to exhaustion. He was hurriedly taken to his home and medical attention summoned, but he himself realized that his life was but a matter of hours. Passing from consciousness that afternoon death overtook him as above stated. The deceased was 66 years of age, and moved to his Alberta homestead from North Dakota in 1910. Besides his wife he leaves a family of nine children, five girls and four boys. They are, Mrs. John Stannard and Mrs. Harry Witting of this district, and Hazel, Gladys and Edith at home, Ralph and Clarence at Brooks and Clifford and Forest at home. The funeral was held from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. F. Forster conducted the services and interment was made in the Travers cemetery. A large number of friends and acquaintances attended the funeral, paying their last respects to the deceased.

The Lomond Consolidated Schools closed for the holiday period on Thursday afternoon. The departmental examinations were completed that day and the two lower rooms completed their exercises by a concert and picnic lunch. A number of the parents were present and participated in the exercises. The teachers are scattering to at least three winds of the heavens. Principal Matheson has gone to his home at Granum, and will within ten days inform the board as to his probable return should rumor be well founded there should be one less vacant house in town upon his return, should he decide to come back. Miss Ball is taking a summer tour down the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence as far as old Quebec, joining a party of friends from Calgary, and will spend the remainder of her holidays with her mother at Tillsonburg, Ont. Miss Pederson left Thursday evening via Lethbridge for her home near Bow Island, and intends visiting in Boston during the holidays. As the Lomond school staff received excellent commendation from the Inspector, the parents will be pleased to have the three teachers return for another term.

Ralph, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McManus of Midway, had the misfortune to sustain a serious fracture at his right elbow on Thursday while practicing some stampede stunts on a young calf. T. J. Armstrong drove him to Dr. Carson at Vulcan for professional attention. A strange coincidence happened while at doctor's office in Vulcan. Just as Dr. Carson was completing the boy's case a young lady employed in one of the Vulcan banks was brought in suffering from a fractured leg. She had unknowingly stepped through a trap-door opening allowing her to fall with the painful results onto the cellar stairs.

A number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. C. R. Adams on Friday evening to honor Mrs. Paton prior to her removal to Rosedale.

Mrs. H. E. Elves visited in Lethbridge during the past week, Mr. Elves driving in for her on Tuesday.

The C. G. I. T. spent a social evening at the home of Flora Newton on Thursday as a farewell to Mary Paton, who leaves next week with her parents to reside at Rosedale.

Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Williamson and family leave on Monday on a three weeks' motor trip to Winnipeg, also visiting friends at Regina and other points on the way.

Mrs. Odenwald of Montana who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, at Lomond, returned to her home this week, Leslie Knapp accompanying her as far as Lethbridge.

H. Erskine and W. H. Smith were business visitors in Lethbridge this week, and say that the crops in the south have nothing on the Lomond wheat fields.

The regular business meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Vise on Thursday evening, July 5th, at eight o'clock. All ladies interested are requested to keep this announcement in mind.

NOTES

Instead of three thousand as stated in the last issue, the Manitoba vote in favor of Moderation League proposal for government control of the sale of liquor amounted to a majority of nearly thirty-five thousand.

There a great many lessons to be taken from this apparent reversal of public sentiment.

In the first place it would appear that the idealistic temperament of the public had developed faster than its moral backbone. In other words the public was willing to legislate prohibition but not to substantiate the legislation.

Another feature was the wholesale prostitution of the chartered privileges extended to the medical profession. It was thought at the time that this educated body of men would not stoop to the level of the sneaking bootlegger. The profession has been dragged in the mud and the social pedestal upon which is rested is shot to pieces. The public does not want the sanctity of the human body under care of the agents of the liquor traffic. Some mixed drinks may be alright, but professional enterprise and the booze traffic are still widely separated lines of endeavor in the eyes of the public.

The attempt at liquor law enforcement has been more or less of a joke. So much "palm grease" was rubbed all around that practically every regular booze operator was immune to serious prosecution.

The press cannot interpret the vote so much as a desire for booze as for the setting of the booze traffic in regularly constituted booze channels. It is not a return of the bar as far as Manitoba is concerned.

Just how the new order will conflict with the already organized illicit forms of the traffic will be an interesting feature to watch. There is bound to be a conflict and these bootleggers are not going to give up a lucrative business just because the people voted government control.

As for the Alberta vote, if the same was to be taken now we would fear for prohibition, but perhaps by Nov. 5th. the sentiment of the people will be more evenly tempered.

The Press does not feel satisfied with the turn of events in connection with the attempted organization of a wheat board by the Alberta and Saskatchewan premiers. Neither Greenfield nor Dunning appeared sympathetic to the idea and it would look as though the U.G.G. and the Saskatchewan Co-Operative exerted a contrary influence as well. The milk-sop explanation handed out by Greenfield does not go down our throat leaving an agreeable taste. The executive material required is available all right, but one could not reasonably expect the U.G.G. or any other concern to sign away their rights without a struggle and hand over their best executive material as well. Greenfield has exhibited a delicate backbone in these negotiations that will reflect with evil effect upon his future career.

The U.F.A. Central Executive is now attempting to arrange a wheat pool upon the basis of voluntary contracts. A real live individual at the top might bring it to life, but as things now stand we have our doubts.

Ontario has a new government. A conservative sweep changed the political situation in Ontario from what was recognized as a farmers government to the old line party. The conservatives have a majority over all of forty-one seats. The liberals and U.F.O. parties have fifteen each, while the labor and independents are practically wiped off the slate.

There appeared to be no particular political issue at stake more than the people as a whole did not like the idea of a "farmer" organization to be conceded a ruling factor. It is said that the booze issue had something to do with the conservative victory, but from Alberta it is hard to believe that good old Ontario stock would fall into any such line of reasoning. They wanted a change, voted for it and got it. The conservatives promise a liquor plebiscite all right, but that does not make Ontario wet by any means.

Montreal Honors First Skipper in Port

1. C.P.S.S. Montrose bringing first passengers to Montreal, 1923 Season. 2. Captain Edmund Aikman, Commander of the Bolingbroke.

TWENTY years ago Montreal was but a "mere calling place for ships." It had practically no modern cargo-handling devices or equipment, its wharf sheds were just wooden shacks which were actually taken down in winter to prevent them being blown away, and much of the merchandise was stored in the open air at the mercy of the wind and weather. Now Montreal is the greatest port of Canada and it is the best located. From a mere riverside stopping place for ships, it has stepped into the front rank of ocean ports, and has become equipped with facilities for the accommodation of ships and for the handling and storing of freight that are unrivalled on the continent. Despite the fact that Canada has less than 10,000,000 population and that the United States has more than 110,000,000, Montreal now handles a greater volume of business than any port on the American continent with the solitary exception of New York.

The principal reasons for Montreal's supremacy are the facts that it is nearly one thousand miles inland from the ocean, at the head of deep water navigation with direct access to the Atlantic, and that behind it is a through route right up to the head of the Lakes at the Twin Cities, a thousand miles further inland. Were it an all year port, Montreal would be the chief one of the continent, but for some months winter closes the beautiful St. Lawrence route, and the vessels fretting at the mouth of the great river must wait until the ice goes out in the spring before they can make their way westward.

About fifty years ago, the Harbor Master originated the idea of presenting a tall silk hat to the captain of the first vessel to arrive in the spring with a transatlantic ship. This custom was observed for about thirty-five years, then, as the top hats lost their popularity, a gold headed cane was presented instead by the Harbor Commission.

This year the cane was presented to Captain Edmund Aikman, of the Canadian Pacific S.S. Bolingbroke who had just completed his first voyage in command. The Bolingbroke left London for Montreal on April 9th, calling at Antwerp en-route, arriving three hours ahead of her nearest competitor on May 3rd. The liner "Montrose" of the same line, the first passenger vessel to reach the port in 1923, arrived two days after.

The Royal Grain Inquiry Commission

(Submitted by R. J. Deachman, Secretary of the Commission.)

For twenty years, more or less, there has been a continual protest from farmers in Western Canada in regard to our present system of marketing grain. That protest has continued ever since the adoption of the present elevator system. The farmers have protested against the elevator companies, the grain exchange, the railways, the exporters, and every other person who has anything to do with the marketing.

We find no fault with these protests—human institutions are fallable. It may be the fault-finding was justified.

The whole marketing of grain in Western Canada has grown up and developed within the last few years. It is absurd to expect it to be perfect, or even capable at all times of meeting the demands made upon it.

It may be true that this system is not the best that can be devised. Some of the ablest men in Canada have condemned it. Many of the keenest minds have praised it, but the point we want to make now is that the government has appointed a commission to investigate the whole business, and it is the duty of farmers and of all others interested to state their problem before the commission is clearly as possible, with the one idea of helping to devise means of improvement.

The commission begins at Edmonton on June 25th. It goes to Stettler on the 27th, Calgary on 28th, Vulcan July 4th, Cardston July 6th, Lethbridge on the 9th, Claresholm on the 11th, and Alask on the 13th. These meetings cover the province in a broad and general way.

All those who lay any claim to special knowledge of marketing problems should attend these meetings prepared to give evidence that will help to solve the particular problems on hand.

Any commission is composed of hum-beings trying, sometimes vainly, to reach the light. Their ability to solve the problems will depend largely on amount of help they get from practical men who have had experience in the business of producing and marketing the Canadian grain crop. If you are in a position to give assistance of this kind, make it a point to appear before the commission. If you have any special information you would like the commission to receive, send it to the secretary, Royal Grain Inquiry Commission, Calgary.

Canned Fruits and Vegetables Now Standardized

Housekeepers run practically no risk of getting a poor quality of canned fruits or vegetables if they will be careful to order by quality grades. All canned goods put up in larger factories must conform to legal standards, and these are shown of the label on the can.

The system of standardizing canned fruits and vegetables is explained in the May-June number of the Agriculture Gazette by C.S. McGillivray, the Chief Canning Inspector of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

The four legal standards of quality for fruit and vegetables are—"Fancy Quality" "Choice Quality" "Standard Quality" and "Second Quality".

In addition to general standards for vegetables, specific grades have been established for canned peas. These are as follows: Sizes No.1, No 2, Size

No.3, and Size No 4. The size is determined by the opening in the sieve through which the green peas will pass.

Canada's fruits are graded for quality and syrup. In grading for syrup, the terms "Heavy Syrup", "Light Syrup" and "Without Sugar" are employed. If the packer so desires, he may substitute the words "Packed in Syrup" "Heavy Syrup", (stating the percentage of sugar in syrup).

The terms denoting quality and grade must appear upon the main portion of the label in plain type of a size not less than $\frac{1}{8}$ of an inch in height. Thus, in the case of peas, the label must indicate the quality and size of the peas contained in the can, thus—Fancy Quality, Size No. 1. In the case of fruit, it must indicate the quality of the article as well as the consistency of the syrup so far as sugar content is concerned, thus:

"Fancy Quality—Heavy Syrup".

The declaration of net weight on certain sizes of containers is not required, as these sizes have been standardized. These sizes are known as Size 1's, 1½'s, 2's, 3's, and 10's. The minimum net weight of both liquid and solids as as packed is defined for each of these sizes. Sizes not standardized must show on the label the net weight and the drained weight.

Edmonton, June 20th, 1923.

The Editor,

The Lomond Press.

Dear Sir,--

Very frequently we have in the different shelters throughout the Province, children ranging from one month to sixteen years, waiting to be placed in desirable homes, and often find it quite difficult to find the right home for the right child. At present our greatest difficulty is in obtaining application for baby boys.

We have altogether about fifteen baby boys and a few baby girls from one to three months old, to be placed,

EYREMORE CIRCUIT

BOW CITY

Bow City is boasting the possession of a first class radio which has been installed by David Campbell, the popular and enterprising hardware and garage man. Of course the whole of the work and expense so far entailed has been made good by this same Campbell man and to him is due all the glory, nevertheless the residents of the community are living in the reflecting glory of the event and discuss what was picked up "last evening" just as though the whole community had shared in the undertaking. On Tuesday evening June 26, Mr. Campbell was able to pick up Denver, Colorado, from which city he heard a good concert. Of course the stations of Calgary are heard every day. Were it not for the royal support which the Campbell family give to the local church work, the sky pilot of Eyremore might get anxious lest he lost in the competition which might now be set up with leading pastors in Calgary each Sunday evening.

The young lady was taking the church census and a tall young man with a clerical appearance had just requested her to step inside, as they had sickness in the house and he didn't like to leave the door ajar. Influenza prevailed in the neighborhood, and the young woman was cautious. "It isn't anything contagious, I hope," she queried suspiciously.

"Twins, ma'am," was the reply.

The young lady flew.—Ex.
